

Aidan,
I need your
advice—

Before we proceed,
I need you
to understand
something

What's that?

AIDAN!

I lack
the patience
to listen
to people
whine

Well, I cut out friends, just so I know I'm only obligated to be there for a few specific people in their down times.

I can be there
for you some

Unless you want to purchase
drugs then I know a guy who knows a guy—

Lol this comic strip complains about people complaining.
The hypocrisy is high.

In all seriousness, 7 billion humans on Earth, So when a stranger has exhausted all resources and resorts to confiding in another stranger (aka me) I do my best to be kind in their times of need.

However,
I just can't respond to distress calls from one individual 24/7, 365 days a year.

Like damn, are you ever happy?

Look guys,
I know you're not seeking for
a problem solver,
just someone
to listen to you

But do you know why I'm not a licensed
therapist?
